It is an opportunity to hear our volunteers tell their stories about the work they are doing that makes a difference right here in Greensboro. For more information: call (336) 333-2111 and ask for Brooks.

Did You Know?

May 8 is National Red Cross Red Crescent Day. It is celebrated throughout the world each year, in honor of Henry Dunant, who founded the International Red Cross Red Crescent Movement nearly 150 years ago. The theme of this year's observance is "Sister Societies Working Together," which pays tribute to Dunant's vision and highlights the many ways in which Red Cross and Red Crescent societies around the globe partner to protect the lives and dignity of people everywhere.

Join us at the Greensboro Chapter to see how we are partnering with our international community and how you can get involved:

Friday, May 8 at 10:00am

Do you Tweet? Are you on Facebook?

We've placed ourselves alongside our growing family of Chapters in the nation that use social networking outlets to share information about disaster response, events and life-saving program information.

While these additions will not replace our newsletter or website, they will serve as a new way to distribute information to our online community.

Facebook users can join our fan page by searching for "American Red Cross Greensboro Chapter". Twitter users can follow us at "GSONC Red Cross".
